Senior Class History

September, 1920, forty-four Freshmen entered Butler High School. At our first class meeting we elected the following officers:

President - - - - -	Earl McDonald
Vice President - - - - -	Robert Rudd
Treasurer - - - - - -	Ralph Sturgis
Secretary - - - - - -	Dorothy Ocker

They participated in the inter-class basket ball games but after several victories lost to the Eighth grade.

During the term we enjoyed several social functions, including class parties at the Haverstock home and at the school house.

When we returned as Sophomores our number was greatly diminished and we paid more attention to study, only having one party at the school house. The officers were:

President - - - - - -	Robert Rudd
Vice President - - - - -	Russell Miller
Secretary - - - - -	Kathryn Gehring
Treasurer - - - - -	Gaylord Mullet

In 1922-23 we undertook to publish our school paper, The Fortnight, and to give a banquet to our upper classmen. We entrusted our affairs to:

President - - - - - -	Ivol McClellan
Vice President - - - - -	Russell Miller
Secretary - - - - - -	Gaylord Mullet
Treasurer - - - - - -	Kathryn Gehring

That year we won the championship of the inter-class basket ball games.

We are now Seniors with our high school career nearly finished, but only twenty-two remain of the original class.

Our efforts this year have been centered on the publication of the Annual and presentation of Senior Play, but we have also been represented in athletics, the operetta and the Discussion Contest.

The present officers are:

President - - - - - -	Henry Funk
Vice President - - - - -	Earl McDonald
Secretary - - - - - -	Loren Teutsch
Treasurer - - - - - -	Dorothy Ocker

The Class Prophecy

The piercing blasts of a large locomotive whistle, then the sound of air whirring through the coaches, a terrible jerking of the whole train, and I found myself sitting upon a fat gentleman's lap on the seat facing me. The heavy train came to a stop none too soon, for even then it had grazed the rear of an automobile which had tried to beat it across the track, and luckily for the occupants, had only pushed it to one side. Of course, out of curiosity, everyone piled out of the coaches and walked to the head of the train. There, the engineer, who proved to be Arthur Jenks, was confirming the fact that even at this advanced period of civilization and after so many years of sad experiences, people were still foolish enough to try, against all odds, to beat trains over crossings.

His lecture was cut short by a small boy who crawled out of the auto and called out excitedly, "Ma and pa aint hurt much, only pa bumped his nose." The conductor and the man who sold peanuts and candy on the train, the latter I recognized as Robert Rudd, pulled "pa and ma" out of the car. There, much to my surprise, I beheld two of my old classmates, namely, Gaylord Mullet and Sarabel Capp. Neither was seriously injured and after wishing them much success I climbed back into the train and was soon on my way.

At the next station a most familiar personage boarded the train whom I remembered as the Rev. Roscoe F. Wilson, of the class of '24. He informed me he was going back to the old home town to hold a series of revival meetings, and as I had plenty of time I decided to stop at Butler and, perhaps, see some of my old acquaintances.

Deacon Miller, Russell Miller without the title, was at the train to meet us. From the station we proceeded to the Hotel Butler where we were both heartily received by my host Henry Funk and his good wife, formerly Miss Margaret Kuss.

After a short visit with Henry and Margaret, I made my way to the church where Rev. Wilson was to conduct the services.

I entered, found a seat and began looking at the crowd, hoping to see a familiar face. I was much surprised at the size of the choir and orchestra, but most all to see Kate Mavis nee Gehring playing first violin and Queen

Blair, piano. I received another jolt when Charles Schramn took his place as leader of the choir.

I also learned that Ervin Norris was holding down the position of janitor. Rumor reported that although not altogether satisfied with his present situation his intentions were to hold it until something better turned up. Further information revealed the fact that James Cather, through his honesty, integrity and business ability was allowed to take up the collections.

What great changes time will bring about. The truth of this statement was fairly thrown in my face when I learned that Butler had long ago been made the county seat. Upon inquiry I learned that the Spring term of court was to open on the following day with Earl McDonald as Judge of this district.

To make my visit in Butler one of nothing but pleasure, I could not afford to miss anything of interest to me so most certainly I must visit Judge McDonald's court.

The newly elected sheriff, Mary Carpenter, seemed to be performing her duties in a very satisfactory manner—judging from the arrests she had made.

Case after case was disposed of by the wily old Judge, most of them divorce cases, which goes to prove matrimonial difficulties were not all confined to the early days when moonshine and bathing beauties were in vogue.

The last case on the docket was that of Paul Wagoner, one of my old classmates, who seemed to have strayed away; a lost sheep that had wandered far from the rest of the flock, had fallen into one of life's numerous pit-falls and this was perhaps his last day of freedom.

He was a pitiful looking character, sullen, haggard and worn from days and nights of "watchful waiting." His downward glance and evasive manner fairly proved him to be a criminal. Our most esteemed and honored classmate had been arrested and had plead guilty to the charge of playing marbles "for keeps."

I sincerely hoped, from the depths of my heart, that the jury would be easy on him. At my first glance at that worthy group my spirits began to rise, for among them I recognized my former classmates, Ivol McClellan, Adelle Oberlin, Ruth and Dorothy Haverstock, Kathryn Cather, the Deacon Miller and Loren Teutsch. At length, after a heated discussion, by both attorneys—one for and the other against capital punishment, the jury adjourned. The crowded court room waited in breathless silence.

After fourteen hours of agony and suspense, a faint sound was heard from the jury room—a murmur as if all were repeating something in unison. Could it be they were pronouncing the death sentence.

The voices grew louder and louder. Soon they were quite audible in the outer room. How beautiful those voices sounded to me! How good it seemed, to be near old friends! How much sweeter they must have sounded to Paul. After the voices ceased and he was pronounced not guilty these words kept ringing thru my head.

"And here's a hand, my trusty frien'
And gie's a hand o' thine
We'll take a cup o' kindness yet
For auld lang syne."

Junior Class History

About fifty Freshmen entered B. H. S. in September, 1921. They clung together in a frightened group, glaring suspiciously at any upper classmen who dared come near them.

They elected the following officers and started out on their troubles:

President - - - - -	Lawrence Blaker
Vice President - - - - -	Lavon Mavis
Secretary-Treasurer - - -	Lillian Hiatt

The class chose purple and gold for their class colors, the violet was their class flower and "Pep and grit win" for their motto. Miss Gares was class teacher.

The first party they had was a weiner roast at Showalter's woods and everybody enjoyed it.

The class then broke up in May, but during their vacation they had a party at Enfields park. Some were not there, but it was enjoyed by all.

The class met again in September and found that they had lose twelve of their members.

They elected the following officers:

President - - - - - -	Lavon Mavis
Vice President - - - - -	Helen Staley
Secretary - - - - - -	Dorothy Clark
Treasurer - - -	Frederick Gengnagel

Miss Leigh was chosen as our class teacher.

The first party was a pot luck supper at the school house and enjoyed by everyone. They remained silent for a while on account of the president's illness, but soon took up their work again.

Their next party was a weiner roast at Gypsy hill and all had a splendid time. The class then broke up in May to meet again in September to find that a few more had dropped out.

We elected our officers as usual with:

President - - - - - -	Lavon Mavis
Vice President - - - - -	Howard Funk
Secretary - - - - -	Lawrence Blaker
Treasurer - - - - - -	Helen Staley

The president has left us and the vice president has taken his place. We have been very silent this year but have still kept up the old fight.

Sophomore Class History

There were forty-nine of us who started our career in Butler Hi as Freshmen in the fall of 1922. It did not take us long to fall into the sway of the high school life but the strangest of all was the way in which our upper-class mates treated us.

According to the customs we held a business meeting to elect officers:

President - - - - -	Fred Mondhank
Vice President - - - - -	Walter Rank
Secretary - - - - - - -	Hida Coll
Treasurer - - - - -	Joyce Bonecutter

We chose national blue and steel gray as our class colors, American Beauty rose as our flower, and "Not at the top but climbing" for our motto. Mr. Fleenor was our class teacher.

We were well represented in all activities. We had the honor of leading the list on the honor roll and have thus continued to hold that honor this year.

Last September we came back with the same old spirit but some of our band had deserted us. There were forty-one of us who had come back and some new ones joined us, so we were a large enough class to make people sit up and take notice.

At our first meeting we elected officers as follows:

President - - - - - -	Walter Rank
Secretary - - - - -	Margaret Ames
Treasurer - - - - -	Joyce Bonecutter

We chose Miss Travis as our class teacher.

We were well represented in basket-ball this year and proud of the fact we produced some good players. Many of our classmates belong to the Hi-Y and Blue Triangle Clubs which goes to prove we are well respected and admired.

Thus two years of our high school career has flown and we are rejoicing but still a little sad. After two more years of fun, frolic and work, we will be ready to battle our way into the deep and misty paths of life.

Eighth Grade Class History

In the fall of 1916 we forty little tots started our educational career with Mrs. Hollis Stump to lay our foundation for us.

The last half of the term we were kept busy getting ready for a play named "Cinderella" which was given on the school grounds.

We started the next fall in the second grade with Miss Laura Brunson as our teacher, who was loved by all of us.

Our third year passed by very uneventfully with Miss Bernice Day for our teacher.

We started our fourth year with Miss Lucile Waterman to teach us new events. We had an operetta named "Snow White" which was enjoyed by the citizens.

Miss Alda Mumaw taught us the next year during which we had many interesting spelling contests.

Our departmental work began in the sixth grade with Mr. Shirley Barkey for our teacher, and others. We had another operetta entitled "The Runaway Sunbeam."

Mr. John Moore was our teacher in the seventh grade.

Last fall, thirty pupils started to school in the eighth grade very enthusiastic to graduate this spring. Mr. W. G. Woodcox was the teacher in charge of our class, with Ralph Staley, Vera Heighn, Ruth Capp and Jean Bowen also on our teaching staff. Our class organized and elected the following officers: President, Maxine Nearpass; Vice President, Paul Oberlin; Secretary-Treasurer, John Campbell.

Our Class Motto is—Climb to the top. Our class flower is—Red Rose. The class colors are purple and gold.

We had a weiner roast at Showalter's woods October 11th. A Halloween party was held at Charles Herman's home October 30th.

Upon returning to school after the holidays, we moved from the old eighth grade room to the old High School assembly room with the 6th and 7th grades to keep us company. This now makes all of our departmental grades together.

We had a spelling contest between the girls and the boys in which the girls won and the boys had to treat us to a supper. They had it at Charles Herrman's home, March 6th. The party was well conducted and a good supper was served.

The seventh and eighth grade girls started a basket ball team with Miss Capp as our coach. We only played three games out of town and the freshman girls. We lost them all.

The seventh and eighth grade Boys' team played 24 games, winning 16 and losing 8. Their mothers gave them a banquet at the home of Paul Oberlin, April 2nd which was greatly enjoyed by the boys.

The eighth grade started a fly contest with many prizes offered. This contest later was extended to include all grades. At the end of our eighth grade year only eleven remained. Written by Marcelle Smith.

Antonian Literary Society

The Antonian Literary Society was organized, October 11, 1922, with approximately sixty members. It's name was taken in honor of Antonius, the great orator. The constitution required that we meet with the other society every third week and give a program every six weeks.

The officers elected by the society were as follows:

President	Richard Dannells
Vice President	Kathryn Gehring
Secretary	Marion McLaughlin
Treasurer	Lawrence Blaker
Sergeants-at-arms	Jesse Raney Charles Wolfe
Chaplain	Mary Wood

Our first program was given on Friday, December 22, 1922.

On February 14, 1923, we met to elect the officers for the second semester. All the old officers were re-elected, with the exception of the secretary, whose vacancy was filled by George Ocker.

We selected as our motto, Impossible is Un-American; American Beauty Rose as flower; and Gray and Red as colors.

During the half two programs were given.

When we returned to school in September, 1923, one-half of the freshmen were taken into the society and the officers for the coming semester were elected as follows:

President	Kathryn Gehring
Vice President	Earl McDonald
Secretary	Roy Teutsch
Treasurer	Estel Kester
Sergeants-at-arms	Robert Rudd Ferda Hampel
Chaplain	William Miller

During the first semester we gave three programs, one of which was rendered by both societies.

After the Christmas vacation, we elected the fololwing officers:

History of the Fortnight

The year of 1921 introduced a new activity in Butler High, that is, the publishing of a school paper. This enterprise was carried out by the Junior class of that year. It was a decided success, both financially and literarily. The name "Fortnight" was adopted because of the date of publication of the paper.

The next year the paper was published by members of the entire school, each class having two subordinate reporters, the other members of the staff being chosen from the three upper classes.

The Junior class published the Fortnight the following year, and it seems they enjoyed their undertaking for it was through their influence that the Fortnight publication was granted to the Junior class of each year.

The staff of 1923-24 has tried, like all before it, to make its paper a good one. The members heartily appreciate the support of the business men of Butler, and the various contributions of those outside the staff.

The Lecture Course

To develop our Aesthetic sense and to free us from the petty detail and sordid monotony of our every day life we must satisfy our hunger for good music and quench our thirst for wholesome amusements. This has been the accomplishment of the Morgan Lyceum Bureau, which conducted a Lecture

Course through the patronage of Butler citizens this year. All of the participants were highly gifted with marvelous talent and gave five evenings of delightful entertainment.

The first number was a lecture on modern civilization and its lack of ideals by Dr. Raymond Tolbert who delivered a burning challenge on some of the issues that are so far reaching to their effect upon our national society. His was a simple, clear and fearless discussion which made the audience search their own life in its relation to a land they call their own.

The second number was "The Molluse" a comedy drama presented by four professional actors who delighted and pleased us in every way. Household cares and business worries were forgotten in two hours of laughter, but behind each laugh there was an idea and back of it all a worthy moral.

The Alexander Novelty Four, of which, J. F. Alexander, well-known artist, is manager, presented a program of almost unbelievable variety which usually requires the services of seven or eight people. The program consisted of remarkable instrumental effects interspersed with vocal, instrumental and whistling solos together with humorous character impersonations. The music was novel and original in the form of solos, duets, trios, and quartets using the popular saxophones, mellophones, violin, banjo, ukulele, piano, the Hawaiian steel guitar and Spanish guitar. As this was the initital performance in Butler's new gymnasium, encore after encore was given in order to give the hearers an overfull evening's entertainment. They certainly did.

Miss Mary Bryan Powers, soprano and Miss Nelle Snider, pianist and reader gave the fourth number which consisted of music, delightful reading and entertainment. The songs, which were mostly classical set souls a thrilling with their tender melody and rapturous intensity. The instrumental numbers were both classical and late numbers and the comedy readings brought forth peals of laughter. The ability of Miss Snider as a reader and portrayer of character was displayed in the delineation of "The Three Wise Fools" which has had such remarkable success on the stage.

Lastly, but by far the least in sense of pleasure was the evening spent with Miss Lura Forbes, reader and impersonator, who filled every minute with intense emotion. Her audience forgot that they were an audience or that she was an impersonator. Her style was frank and unaffected as her manner was gracious and her skill was as high in tragedy as in comedy. Her short readings portrayed the most common and most comical stories of life. Her rare ability as a reader was displayed in the reading of the play, "Lightnin'" which has been shown with such remarkable success on the stage in the past season.

The Parent-Teachers' Association

The Parent-Teachers' Association, which is now closing its third year of activity, has become a recognized factor in the school life. It is one of the sources through which the public gains information concerning the school activities and child-welfare. There are one hundred seventy-six active members. Because of the interest manifested an amendment was made to the constitution changing the time of meeting from once every six weeks to the third Wednesday evening of each month.

The first meeting of the year was a reception held in honor of the teachers. Music was furnished by the Ladies' Band and refreshments were served. November twenty-first was visiting day, with the regular meeting following. A large number of patrons and friends visited the various grades. This meeting was in charge of the women. The December meeting was in charge of the grade teachers. A Christmas Play was given by the students of the grades under the supervision of Miss Bowen. The January meeting, which was the men's meeting, was very interesting. Special music was furnished by the Blaker quartette, also by Robert Ghering and David Wayne Blaker. All meetings of the year were well attended.

A committee composed of the members of the association weighed and measured the children several times during the year. The association made it possible for milk to be given to those who were under-weight and unable to pay for it. Through the efforts of the members a rest room has been nicely furnished. Several other important projects relating to the welfare of the school are under consideration.

The officers of the Parent-Teachers' Association for the year are:

President - - - -	Mr. L. F. Cooper
Vice President - - -	Mrs. John Lowe
Secretary-treasurer -	Miss Alda Mumaw

Mrs. W. P. Endicott is chairman of the program committee; Mrs. Jesse Oberlin of the membership committee; Mrs. Willard Smurr of the milk committee; and Mrs. John Lowe is chairman of the publishing committee.

The officers for '22-'23 were:

A pair of boxing gloves was secured by the proceeds of a picture show and a small fee from each boy. A checker board and checkers were donated to the club this year. Due to the diversion furnished by the gloves and checkers the boys are kept out of mischief to a great extent.

Last fall the club held an oyster supper. The boys did their own cooking and from all reports the supper was excellenet (?).

History of the Hi-Y Club

The present Hi-y club was organized in the spring of '23 under the direction of Mr. Forney. The purpose of this club is "to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character." The officers were elected near the close of the semester and nothing of importance was done.

The members came back to school in the fall of '23 and with great industry and enthusiasm started the "ball rolling." The meetings have been held regularly and a few students have tried to ride the goat (?) and succeeded (ask Loren, Clyde, or Walter).

A delegation of six was sent to Michigan City, having traveled the greatest distance of any delegation present. The Hi-y found homes for the members of the contesting teams that took part in the tournament, held in Butler this year.

The officers for the coming year are as follows:

President - - - - -	Roy Teutsch
Vice President - - -	Lawrence Blaker
Secretary - - - - -	Lewis Telschow
Treasurer - - - - -	Huber Knisely

We are looking forward to a successful future and we expect to do more and better work for good old B. H. S.

Local and District Contest

The talent from Butler High School contested on March 7. On account of there being no contestants against the quartette, piano solo, or the discussion there was left only the soloists to be judged. Under these circumstances it was decided that the local contest be held before students of B. H. S. in our assembly at 3:10.

Those who entered for solos were: Helen Oberlin, Kathryn Smith and Esther Telschow.

It was decided that we have Mr. King Oberlin, Mrs. Burns and Mrs. Robert White for judges.

There was a very unusual happening at this contest, for when Mr. Forney read the judges report, there had been no decision made. All were tied.

It was then decided to have a contest on Monday afternoon, March 10, at 4:00 o'clock with just the judges, Mr. Forney Miss Bowen and contestants present. Also new judges were selected who were as follows: Mrs. W. Smurr, Mrs. Long, and Mrs. W. Mutzfeld.

It seemed very easy for the decision to be rendered this time. Results of this contest were: (1st) Esther Telschow, (2nd) Kathryn Smith, (3rd) Helen Oberlin.

Next was the district contest which was held on the evening of March 14, in Methodist Church Auditorium at Auburn. In this Butler taking first place in two events.

The Auburn High School orchestra played several numbers before the contest and during the suspense of waiting for the decision of the judges. We were all glad for their music—"Music hath charms to soothe"—It did! and their numbers were well given.

The program opened with the orations and Auburn was successful in taking first place. Garrett second.

Garrett also had a very fine selection in their quartette. The voices blended well and their number was good. The Butler quartette number was very well given.

In the piano solos there was no doubt as to the outcome as Hilda Coll's number was easily recognized as the highest class of music, and it was given with the utmost ease.

In the vocal numbers Auburn took first, Garrett second and Butler third.

In the discussion, Earl McDonald of Butler received first place. The content of his constructive speech showed knowledge of his subject. His delivery was good. The delivery in the other discussions was poor.

The winners of the district contest met in Auburn, Friday evening, March 21.

The discussion was won by Keith Delong of Ashley. St. Joe received second place and Butler third.

The piano solo was won by Waterloo, although the selection rendered by Butler was excellent. We hope to win next year.

Boys' Basket Ball Banquet

On Friday evening, April 4, at seven o'clock the boys basket ball squad gave a banquet in honor of their coach, Mr. Fleenor. A four course dinner was served, consisting of cheese and olive conape', roast chicken, oyster dressing, mashed potatoes and gravy, creamed cauliflower, pickles and rolls, fruit salad and wafers, chocolate pie with whipped cream. After the banquet, Capt. Telschow made a short talk and presented Mr. Fleenor with a fountain pen as a token of the team's appreciation for the things he had done for the team. In response Mr. Fleenor thanked the squad for the gift and the sacrifices they had made. Several ballots were taken to elect a Captain for next year but as no one received a majority it was decided to postpone the election a few days.

Latin Club, B. H. S., '24

A preliminary meeting of the Latin students of the Freshman and Sophomore classes was held March 20, 1924, for the purpose of organizing a Latin Club. The purpose of this Club is to enable the students to become familiar with such subjects as the daily life of the Romans, mythology and others all of which cannot be obtained in the regular class work. In addition to the instructive phase a part of the program each time is merely for entertainment but always along Latin lines.

The following officers were elected:

President - - - -	Joyce Bonecutter
Vice President - - - - -	Floy Ulm
Secretary-Treasurer - - -	Hilda Coll

The first regular meeting was held March 26, 1924 in the Latin room. After a short business session the following program was given:

The Roman Family and Name ..... Miss Travis
Marriage and Position of Women ..... Floy Ulm

Children and Education ..... Florence Maggert
Poem—"Felis" ..... Lloyd Copeland
Contest—"Puer ex Jersey"
Solo—"Three O'Clock in the Morning," in Latin ..... Kathryn Smith
Latin Game (Spelling)
Contest—Sentences
Song—"America" in Latin.

At the conclusion of the program a social hour ensued, the most important part of which was the refreshments which consisted of ice cream and cake, wherein the Latin student has the advantage over Caesar as he knew of no such delicacies.

Freshman Class Parties

The first party of the freshman class was held at Raymond Snyder's, home Hallow'een evening. Every body was masked and prizes were given to the best and the funniest dressed. Later refreshments were served and the party broke up at 10:30. An evening of fun was enjoyed by all.

Sophomore Social Function

The Sophomores have had only one party so far this year, but it was one never to be forgotten. It was a surprise party on Irene Gunsenhouser, and it proved to be a great surprise. It was a pot-luck supper and as usual we all took our hearty appetites with us. Such a meal as we had—thanks to Mrs. Gunsenhouser. The table groaned with food.

After our splendid feed, we spent the remainder of the evening in dancing and playing games. At a late hour we started home declaring it was an evening well spent.

The Junior-Senior Banquet

The Junior-Senior Banquet was held May 4, 1923, in the basement of the Methodist church, which was very beautifully decorated in the Senior colors,—Old Rose and Silver.

Ivol McClellan, President of the Junior Class, most heartily welcomed the Seniors and the faculty, after which Wayne Hendricks, President of the Senior Class, gave an able response.

An orchestra, consisting of Ora Blaker, as pianist, Mr. Steelsmith, with the saxophone, and Floyd Raney with the violin, rendered some excellent music and helped much toward making the evening a successful one.

Mr. Forney, our much respected Superintendent, acted as Toastmaster of the evening, and as he introduced each speaker, likened them to some famous person.

Henry Funk was likened to ex-President Roosevelt, after which he gave a short talk, with "Square Deal" as his subject.

Laura Stroh was likened to Ruth, and gave a short talk on "Loyalty."

Miss Gares was likened to Galli Curci. Her subject was "Music."

Earl McDonald was likened to Ex-President Taft, and talked on "Law."

Mr. Fleenor, our worthy coach, was likened to Fielding H. Yost, Director of Athletics in the University of Michigan, and gave us a fine talk on "Athletics."

George Ocker was likened to Larry Seeman and made a distinctly bright spot in the evening with his talk on "Humor."

The Junior Class regretted to say "good-bye" to their Senior friends, wishing them prosperity as they stepped forth from Butler High; and at the same time were looking forward to when they advance, with dignity, to grace the same position in life.

Thus another year has ended,
We've drank to our loved ones' health,
Let no darkness over-shadow
Their opportunities for wealth.

Not wealth, in terms of money,
Nor as we think of it in gold,—
But wealth of souls and character,
Which keeps us young,—not old.

So in the bright hereafter,
When with our dear ones we commune,
There'll be no regrets to trouble,
And our hearts shall be in tune.

Basket Ball Team Honored

On Thursday night December sixth a banquet was given by the faculty to the girls and boys basket ball teams in recognition of their splendid fighting spirit and good sportsmanship. Place cards representing members of the teams were laid for twenty-five. Mr. Fleenor, our coach, was toastmaster and between courses of the banquet introduced each speaker with a funny story. A quaint menu of Tropical Roosters, river-chicken-in-a-mound, Murphy-banged-up, verdant letters-in-a-fix, goats-in-action, what-fat-people-do-to-reduce, green grass with clothes on, baked sweetness, and I-scream was served. Those present were: Capp, Sucher, Wood, L. Hiatt, Clarke, McClintoc, Warford, E. and H. Bryan, Telschow, Rank, Blaker, Wideman, Miller, E. Hiatt, Mullett, Kissinger, Rosenberry, Keep, Travis, McBrien, Bowen, Goodrich, Jeffers, and Coach Fleenor.

The Butler Alumni Association

As we think back over our happy school days, we fondly think of our old classmates who did so much to make school the school that it was. We wonder how far they have wandered from the dear old Alma Mater. From Canada to the Gulf, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, somewhere some graduate of B. H. S. has made his home. We wonder if they are still a credit to the old school, and as we recall their hopes and ambitions, we wonder how nearly they have realized them.

We have endeavored to collect this information, as nearly correct as possible, and have placed it in our record of the Alumni so that a few of these questions in our minds may be answered. We hope that those who come after us will perfect and add to this record.

A banquet given each year by the Alumni is in honor of the Senior Class and serves also, as a rendezvous for B. H. S.'s Alumni.

The officers of the Alumni Association are:

President - - - - -	Frank Ramey
Secretary - - - - -	Marjorie Graf
Treasurer - - - - - -	Otis Fisher

BOYS BASKET BALL TEAM

MR. FLEENOR, Coach

Mr. Fleenor has proved to be a good coach this year. His theory was: Good Sportsmanship—Win or Lose. He is responsible for the glass back boards that hang in the gym, and for the new suits that the boys wore this year, for which he deserves much credit.

Yea! Ray! Yea! Fleenor! Yea! Yea! Ray Fleenor!

LEWIS TELSCHOW

Captain and Center. Junior.

"Lewie" held down the pivot position for his second year, and was a very valuable man. He is the tallest man on the team and got the tip-off most of the time. He led the team in the number of points scored and much is expected of him next year. It is said that he has a tendency to stray over in the south part of town occasionally.

GAYLORD MULLETT

Guard. Senior.

"Beef" was an old player at guard and was the backbone of the defense. He also came down the floor to make many points. He had the honor of not missing a single practice even though he was handicapped with injuries at times. Gaylord was one of the best fighters on the team and always to the last whistle. We dislike very much to say "good bye." He can be found in the vicinity of North Broadway.

RUSSELL MILLER

Guard. Senior.

"Russ" was called upon to fill all positions on the team and always had the old fight. "Russ" is a senior this year and will be missed when next season comes along. He had the best scholastic record of any man on the squad.

ALBERT WIDEMAN

Guard. Junior.

"Al" earned a regular place on the team and played a good consistent game. He was often shifted to forward or center to strengthen the offense and scored many points. Al was slowed up during the latter part of the season with injuries but will be back again next year fighting for his old position. He is also often found wandering towards the northern part of the city.

LAWRENCE BLAKER

Forward. Junior.

"Blake" was a good man to carry the ball down the floor and comes third in the number of points scored even though he did not play in three games. Lary was a conscientious trainer, a good sport, always fighting and should be one of the main stays on next year's team. He has but one short coming and sometimes he "forgets"—to go see her.

WALTER RANK

Forward. Sophomore.

"Ranky" is the smallest man on the team but a harder fighter never wore the "Green and Gold." He comes second in the number of points scored and has the honor of playing in forty-one consecutive games. "Walt" was a good floor worker, always a good sport, and had a good eye for the basket, but it is said that an auburn haired queen from Ohio claims many of his Sunday evenings.

CLYDE ROSENBERRY

Guard. Junior.

"Rosy" was as hard a worker as there was on the team and was always ready when the call came. He developed rapidly and should prove a valuable man next year. He didn't seem to have any great weakness but delighted in chatting with a certain bobbed haired Freshman girl.

LEWIS KISSINGER

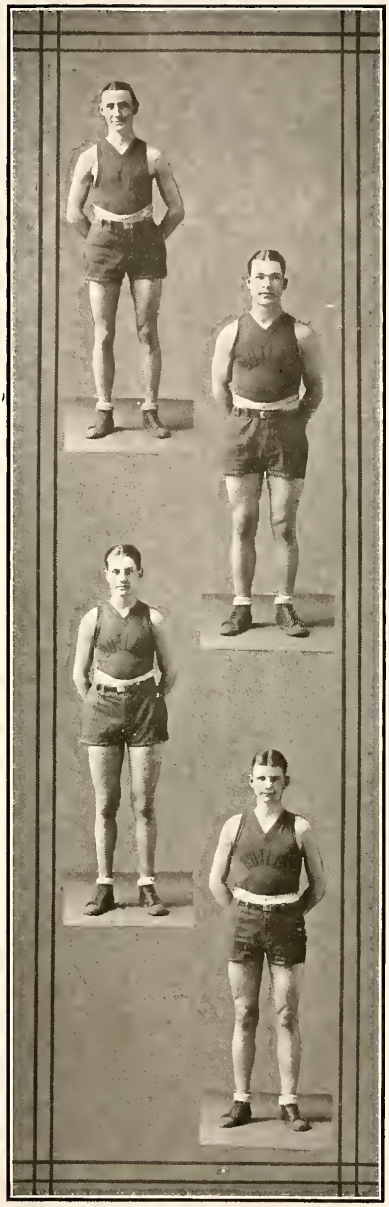
Guard. Sophomore.

"Kissy" was new at the court game but his rapid development towards the end of the season should gain him a place on the squad next year. He made one of the best shots of the year in the Harlan game when he dropped the leather through the net at long range. "Kissy," it is rumored has also visited in Ohio but we couldn't say why.

ARTHUR JENKS

Center. Senior.

"Jiggs" tried his hand at the net game for the first time and due to his height was a hard man to keep from getting the tip-off. He was a difficult man to guard and a good long range shooter. Art could always be counted on for practice and the squad loses a valuable man as he is a senior. "Jiggs" hasn't fallen yet but he came very near at the tournament.



Summary of Boys' Basket Ball Games

Inter-Class Tournament

The Juniors defeated the Freshmen, while the Seniors defeated the Sophomores in the inter-class Tourney held at the beginning of the year. The final game between the Juniors and Seniors was fiercely fought the Juniors making 6 points the first half while the Seniors were unable to score at all. In the second half the Seniors showed their fighting spirit by holding the Juniors scoreless, but lacked the ability to make just one basket, thus the final score stood 6-4 in favor of the Juniors.

Oct. 26. Butler Opens Season With A Win

No team would rather win over Butler than Waterloo, but they were completely outclassed by us on their own floor. The scoring aces for Butler were: Capt. Telschow with 9 points; Wideman 4; Blaker 2; Mullett 2; Rank 1; Miller 1. The final score was 19-7 in favor of B. H .S.

Nov. 2. Butler at Spencerville

We won this game against great odds. The referee employed by Spencerville was inefficient and appeared to be lop-sided, for he failed to see the hooking of the Spencerville team, but had an excellent eye for fouls made by our team. At one time the score was tied, and things looked dark for Butler until we applied the reserve strength and came through with a victory. Those who scored were: Telschow 15; Rank 4; Wideman 4; Blaker 2; Mullett 1.

Nov. 9. Butler at Harlan

Harlan has one of the fastest teams in this section. Butler, however, started the game off with a rush and Rank made four points before Harlan could score. Harlan's teamwork put them ahead, and made the final score read 23-13 in their favor. Rank received 10 points; Mullett 2; Hiatt 1. The Harlan fellows treated us with much respect and courtesy.

Nov. 17. Butler at Hamilton

In a hard fought game Hamilton outscored the Butler boys but did not out fight them. Butler was unable to connect with the basket, the low ceiling being a great handicap to them. Fee, was Hamilton's star. The final score stood 14-7 in Hamilton's favor. Point makers: Telschow 3; Blaker 2; Wideman 1; Mullett 1.

Waterloo at Butler

B. H. S. dedicated their new gym in a very impressive way before a large crowd, by defeating their old rivals, Waterloo, by the score of 26-12. Telschow featured with 7 field baskets. Bratton refereed his first game here and proved his efficiency. Telschow 14 points; Rank 5; Wideman 5; Mullett 2.

LaGrange at Butler

Butler lost a hard fought game to the fast LaGrange quintet by the score of 35-19. Butler "held their own" until O. Lewis, "The B. B. Kid," was substituted and then they steadily pulled away from us. The LaGrange coach was heard to remark that the Butler boys were the best losers they had ever played against. Points made by Telschow 12; Rank 4; Mullett 2; Wideman 1.

Hamilton at Butler

Butler being without the services of Telschow and Blaker and tired from the hard game with LaGrange the night before, we were outscored by Hamilton by the score of 18-11. For Butler Wideman, Mullett, and Rank played best. Scores were made by Wideman 5; Rank 4; Mullett 2.

Pleasant Lake at Butler

Butler lost to Pleasant Lake in a slow game by the score of 24-28. Butler played like a whirlwind the first 5 minutes and led by a score of 15-8. Pleasant Lake Pepped up the last half and won. The scorers for B. H. S. were: Telschow 10; Blaker 6; Rank 2; Wideman 3; Mullett 3.

Nov. 23. Angola vs Butler at Angola

Butler opened the game by passing the ball all around Angola and soon the score was 7-0 in our favor. We, not being used to playing on such a large floor were winded and Angola was able to make several more baskets than we did the last half. The final score was 55-29. Telschow came through with 16 points; Wideman 4; Rank 3; Mullett 3; Blaker 2.

Nov. 28. Butler at Auburn

The Butler boys lost their Pep for some unknown reason and could not hold the ball, and Auburn piled up a final score of 41-22 on us. Telschow made 9 points, Rank 6; Blaker 4; Wideman 3.

Dec. 21. Butler at LaGrange

Without practice Butler journeyed to LaGrange and were walloped at the hands of LaGrange by a score of 51-11. The point makers were: Telschow 3; Wideman 8.

Feb. 8. Butler at Ashley

This game was a very exciting one. Butler started with a rush and soon led 7-0. The score at the end of the first half was 10-12 in favor of Butler. Ashley came back strong the second half, but the Butler boys kept in the lead. At the end the score was 20-15 in our favor. Telschow made 11 points; Rank 5; Blaker 2; Wideman 2.

Feb. 13. Harlan at Butler

In this game we defeated Harlan by a score of 26-15. Kissinger made his first basket in this game, which was hard fought throughout. Gruber, Harlan's scoring ace, was held scoreless from the field. Telschow made 14; Rank 8; Wideman 2; Kissinger 2.

Feb. 15. Auburn at Butler

Auburn again walloped us, with a score of 44-13. The game was much better than the score indicates. Auburn played a short passing game and had fine luck hitting the basket. Scorers for Butler: Telschow 6; Blaker 4; Rank 2; Mullett 1.

Feb. 16. Spencerville at Butler

Butler took sweet revenge on Spencerville and beat them 14-9. Our defense was excellent and Spencerville secured only one field basket the second half. The scorers were: Blaker 8; Wideman 5; Kissinger 1.

Feb. 23. Angola at Butler

Inability to hit free-throws cost Butler this game. The game was very rough, 23 personals being called. The final score was 15-25. Butler's point makers were: Telschow 9; Blaker 5; Mullett 1.

County Tournament

The County Tourney was held in Butler's new gym. The Butler boys were defeated in their first game with Spencerville. The tournament was very successful financially and the teams were heard to remark at the fine spirit and the fine treatment the boys received.

Feb. 26. Ashley at Butler

Butler defeated Ashley before a large crowd to the tune of 28-30. The second half was very fast, Ashley tying the score at the beginning of it. Rank made the winning basket. Rank came through with 10 points; Telschow 10; Blaker 4; Wideman 4.

District Tournament

The District Tournament was held at Angola. Butler was defeated their first game by Salem. The game was a fast one, but Salem had the advantage as they were used to Angola's big floor, as they used it as their practice floor all winter. The final score was 22-17. The games were all very interesting. Garrett and Angola played the finals which resulted in a victory for Angola.

Kendallville at Butler

Kendallville came to Butler with a large crowd of rooters—determined to win. They found that they had to fight for the victory which they finally won by a final score of 28-42. Butler's aces were: Telschow 10; Rank 10; Blaker 6; Mullett 2.

Churubusco at Butler

Butler's line-up was crippled by the absence of Wideman, but Blaker filled his place very well. The game was a hard fought one, and resulted in a win for Churubusco 14-18. Butler's scorers were: Blaker 9; Rank 3; Mullett 2.

The Butler Medal

The Butler Medal, awarded for the first time at the close of the basketball season, 1924, comes to Butler High School through the efforts of Mr. Fleenor, athletic coach. Mr. Fleenor, who has always been a booster for fair-play and good sportsmanship originated the idea of giving a medal to encourage good sportsmanship in the class room, and on the street, as well as on the basketball court. The award is to be made annually by a committee consisting of the following personnel with voting power as follows:

Director of Athletics - - - - -	5 votes
Each letter man for the year - -	1 vote
Each high school teacher - - -	1 vote
Editor of Fornight - - - - - -	1 vote
Referee - - - - - - - - - -	1 vote

The points to be considered are the individual's attitude towards opponents, teammates, coach, officials, training rules, teachers, school work, school mates, and fellow man.

At a meeting of the committee held the first of March, the trophy was awarded to Walter Rank, who is a Sophomore and Captain-elect for the 1924-25 season. He has played in forty-one consecutive games and this year was second in the number of points with eighty-one to his credit.

GIRLS' BASKET BALL TEAM

Left to right, top row: N. Moore, E. Telschow, Coach Travis, C. Diehl.
Second row: F. Haverstock, M. McClintoe, E. Bryan, H. Bryan, F. Maggert.
Third row: R. Warford, D. Milliman.

MISS TRAVIS, Girls Coach

Miss Travis deserves a great deal of credit for the victories of the B. B. Girls this year. This was the first year that the Butler girls have ever had suits, and this was due to Miss Travis' determinination to have our team show up as well as other teams. We received many compliments on them, every place we played.

Yea! Flossie! Yea! Travis! Yea! Yea! Flossie Travis!

ELIZABETH BRYAN

Capt. Forward and Center. Junior.

As captain of the team Elizabeth was always on the job. She is the only player who had the honor of playing in every game and hasn't a single foul against her. Her unselfish playing and good sportsmanship won the admiration of all. We know that at least one Junior admired her and presumably still does.

LILLIAN HIATT

Forward. Junior.

Lillian, the midget of the team started the season with a bang but was unfortunate enough to be able to play in only half the games. She always displayed real fighting spirit on the floor. When forced to quit on account of ill-health she still showed her spirit by being a loyal rooter. Her enthusiasm carried over to the boys' team with a certain tall guard as her main ineentive.

DOROTHY MILLIMAN

Guard. Freshman.

Dorothy proved to be a very faithful sub and although she played in only two games this season the future is still before her. She and her freshman sisters ought to show us a good team next year. Dorothy aspires to be as good a guard as "Lewie" is a center.

ROSALIE WARFORD

Guard. Sophomore.

Rosalie was always ready to fill the position of guard when called upon. Although she played in only three games we knew we could depend upon her, a mark of good sportsmanship. She has two more years ahead of her. As far as we know (but we may be mistaken) no one man has been able to captivate her heart.

NELLIE MOORE

Guard. Freshman.

Nellie is another freshman who promises to be a star player within the next three years. Nellie is little but mighty and always went on the floor with the determination to keep her forward from scoring and she usually did. Nellie has not tripped yet but men with cars seem to attract.

FLORENCE MAGGERT

Forward. Freshman.

Florence won a place as forward on the team toward the latter part of the season where she showed up remarkably well. We like her shooting and are glad that we can count on her for three more years. In this the president of the freshman class heartily agrees with us.

HELEN BRYAN

Forward. Freshman.

Helen, the baby of the team, made her debut at Spencerville in the second game of the season where she showed her colors by making seven of the nineteen points. As she is only a freshman and with sister "Lizzie" to guide her we expect much from her next year. Helen, good at athletics also bids fair to captivate many a heart.

MARGARET McCLINTOC

Side Center. Sophomore.

Margaret played real basket ball at side center but her ability and cooperative spirit made it possible for her to be shifted to other positions. As proof of this one had only to see her at guard in the last two games she played for Butler High. We were all mighty sorry to see her return to South Side. Were we not, Lewis?

MARY WOOD

Side Center. Sophomore.

Mary was right there when it came to filling the position of side center. A better fighter never set foot on a basket ball floor. The team suffered a severe loss when she was forced to give up playing on account of a broken wrist. Next to basket ball Mary's main interest is banking, or strictly speaking, bankers.

FAYE HAVERSTOCK

Side Center. Junior.

When we were in need of a side center, Faye, who had been waiting patiently to show what she could do, was ready to fill the place. But as she is a Junior we can count on her only one more year. Besides school work and basket ball Faye is quite busy looking after a certain freshman.

Summary of Girls' Basket Ball Games

Oct. 26. Butler vs Waterloo—10-11

In this, our first game, we were out-scored the first half by the small score of 3-9, but the second half the girls came back determined. This was our first experience on a floor this year but the game ended with a score of 10-11 in favor of Waterloo. Waterloo almost "met their Waterloo. Butler made all their points from foul line.

Nov. 2. Butler at Spencerville—19-4

The girls again showed their ability as B. B. players. Helen Bryan deserves much credit as in this, her first game, she made 7 of the 19 points. The game ended 19-4 in favor of Butler.

Nov. 9. Butler at Harlan—10-5

Again our girls showed their superiority and played a good clean game. Half ended 4-2 in our favor. The second half started with lots of pep on both sides, but our girls outscored their opponents 10-5. We were impressed by the good sportsmanship of the Harlan girls.

Nov. 17. Butler at Hamilton—10-5

With lots of pep our girls went into this game and came out with another victory. E. Bryan made all the field goals. McClintic played well in Wood's place.

Nov. 24. Butler at Angola—9-2

Alas! Our girls met their Waterloo at Angola. On account of the large floor we were unable to keep up with Angola's team work, but we held them down to the small score of 9-2.

Nov. 28. Butler at Auburn—110-2

We initiated our new suits in this game to the tune of 110-2. We have received lots of razzing on this game, but we have taken it in a good sportsmanlike way. Jeffers is still wondering why we couldn't sing the next Monday morning.

Jan. 12. Waterloo at Butler—3-10

This was our first game in the new gym. We were greatly handicapped by lack of practice, but nevertheless played a good game. The final score stood 3-10 in favor of Waterloo.

Jan. 19. Hamilton at Butler—6-2

For the second time we conquered our old rivals. Three of the regulars—Wood, Hiatt, and Barker (nee Sucher) were absent from the lineup due to marriage and ill health. Butler forwards had hard luck, shooting baskets but succeeded in winning by 4 points, 6-2.

Kendallville at Butler—52-0

It seems that the girls were "out of luck" in this game, as they were unable to connect with the basket even once. They were without the support of Kuss and Capp, so the lineup, with the exception of E. Bryan and Helen Bryan, was practically an unexperienced one. The final score was 52-0 in favor of K'ville.

Feb. 8. Butler at Ashley—20-9

This game was played on Ashley's new floor, which is a fine one. The girls showed up well and the old "fighting spirit" was evident throughout the game. Florence Maggert played for the first time, and she showed up well, making three field baskets the first half. The girls lost out the second half, and were defeated 20-9.

Feb. 13. Harlan at Butler—17-8

The girls again defeated Harlan. The game was well fought for on both sides, and clean tactics were shown all through the game. The final was 17-8 in our favor.

History of Junior High Basket Ball

Spurred on by a stinging defeat in the first game of the season, the squad under the direction of coach Woodcox, buckled down to daily, systematic practice, determined that better results should be fortheoming in future games. The final game showed that we had won 16 out of 24 games played. We played all the teams in this county, three in adjacent counties and two teams from Ohio.

Reverses were encountered from time to time, but all obstacles were quickly pushed aside, and the team moved on from victory to victory, except for a defeat now and then when luck seemed entirely against us.

Oberlin, Dean, Loomis, Mountz, and Deck started the season as the regulars, with Poffenberger, Beebe, Milliman and W. Moughler as subs. Later on R. Moughler, Haverstock, and J. Campbell joined the sub squad.

We used the out-door court and Wright's store room for practice until the Gym was ready. The early morning hour from 6:45 to 8:15 was allotted us for our practice time and the boys got down to business in earnest. They proved faithful to their task, getting up by six o'clock on those cold, winter mornings to be in time for practice. There was no grumbling or complaining. In fact, Dean became so determined to secure all the practice possible, that he came to the gym on a few unauthorized occasions, and became ineligible. At the same time, Deck left us to enter the Irene Byron Sanitarium. This severely crippled our team for a while, but Poffenberger and R. Moughler soon whipped into shape and our losing streak was ended.

Herrman next joined the squad. He soon replaced Poffenberger, who, although a very good little player was too light to cope with the players on some of our larger opposing teams. Near the close of the season, A. Miller and Shumaker came out as subs, and although they did not get in any of our regular games promise to be good material for next year.

Paul Kissinger was our faithful scorer and time keeper, and practiced some with us.

All in all, the boys showed fine sportsmanship, played good team work, and above all kept their grades above the average.

Their final meeting was in the form of a banquet at the home of Paul Oberlin, April 2, with Prof. Forney, Mr. Staley and Mr. Woodcox as guests.

Housekeeper—"I asked you for a young chicken."
Butcher—"Well, didn't you get it?"
Housekeeper—"Say. It was old enough to dress itself."

Fleenor—"What races of people have black eyes?"
Bright Pupil—"Sheiks and prizefighters."

Mayor—"Why are you parking?"
Al W.—"There's a miss in the car."

Judge (to a man who has been arrested for tickling a lady)—"Young fellow, have you anything to say for yourself?"
Fellow—"Yes sir. I'd like to ask you if you believe in the Bible?"
Judge—"I certainly do."
Fellow—"Do you believe that woman was made from a rib of man?"
Judge—"Yes."
Fellow—"Well then. Why in thunder can't a man tickle his own rib?"

Jeffers—"You look very sleepy. Were you out late last night?"
Edwin K.—"I had to sit up with the baby."
Jeffers—"Oh, I see. How old was the baby?"

Mr. G. says since he has grown a mustache he has to pass up the spaghetti.

Jeffers—"I want each person in the Assembly to name a prehistoric animal, beginning with Miss Travis."

"Fools often ask questions no wise man can answer"—said Mr. Fleenor one day in class.

Paul W.—"I guess that's the reason I flunk so often in your tests."

Senior—"Some one is burning cabbage."

Jeffers—"Roscoe, will you please take your head off that radiator."

Helen B. (In Dom. Sc.) to Mr. Jeffers—"Aren't you the same man I gave those biscuits to yesterday?"

Jeffers—"No. Doc says I'll never be the same man again."

CAN YOU IMAGINE THESE THINGS IN 1940?

Edith Diehl crackin a joke?
Margaret Lowe a Prima Donna?
Roscoe Wilson preaching a sermon?
Lillian Hiatt a fairy dancer?
Mr. Fleenor still a bachelor?
Si Nodine in a hurry?
Queen Blair chewing gum?
Loren Teutsch having a date?
Isabel Madden with bobbed hair?

We've worked all day, we've worked all night,
In fact we're very pale.
Still some young chap will pop right up,
And holler "very stale."

Mrs. Gehring—"Kathryn—what were you and Lavon talking about last night?"

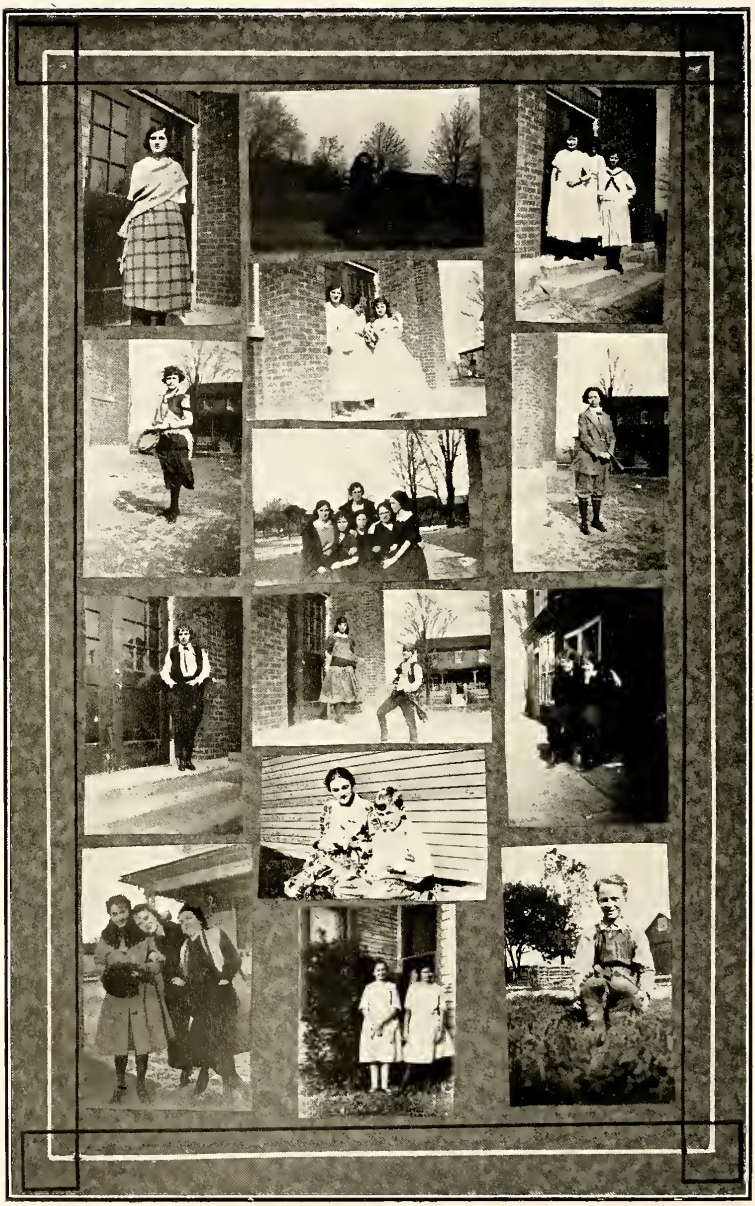
Bob Gehring—"I know mother. They were talking about 'Kith' and 'Kin.' Lavon said 'kin I have a kiss?' and Kate said 'Yes, you kin'."

Frederick G.—"Last night I dreamed I was married to the most beautiful girl in the world."

Mary H.—Oh. Were we happy?"

Waiter—"Where's that paper plate I gave you with your pie?"

Freshman—"Oh, I thought that was the lower crust."



Blaker—"Say! What's the name of that girl I saw you with last night?"

Rank—"I don't know. She was so fast I couldn't even catch her name."

Wont you come into my parlor?
Said the spider to the fly.
"Parlor nothin'. Getta Flivver."
Was our modern flys reply.

Teacher—"When is the song 'Here Comes the Bride' sung?"

Kid—"I don't know. But Dad says it's the greatest war song ever written."

Faye—"Jid gave me an army and navy kiss last nite."

Mary—"Well? What kind is that?"

Faye—"Oh rapid fire. About 60 a minute."

One—"I have a good job at Hathaways."

Another—"What do you do?"

One—"Milk Chocolates."

Jeffers—"Why are you lugging home that expensive box of candy?"

Mr. G.—"Just playing safe. My wife kissed me this morning so I think it must be her birthday or our wedding anniversary."

Roscoe W.—"I wish to ask you a question concerning a tragedy."

Fleenor—"Well?"

Roscoe—"What's my grade?"

Lillian (suggestively)—"Those cookies in the window make my mouth water."

Al—"Then spit."

Johnny—"They say there ain't any Hell."

Willie—"Yeh, and believe me I'm going to investigate this stork business, too."

Sam—"Mama, do cats go to heaven?"

Mother—"Of course not."

Sam—"Well, where do the angels get their harp strings?"

Mr. G.—"Frankly now, has your college education every been of any practical value to you?"

Fleenor—"Gosh yes, a burglar got into my room one night and I gave our old class yell and scared him away."

Young Wife—"Dearest? How do they arrange these pickles so nicely in the bottles?"

Young Husband—"They pile the pickles up Petsy and then they blow the bottles around them."

PRACTICAL RELIGION

"They're building a new brick church down the street."

"Makes it handy? Doesn't it?"

"Yeh. Glad to have some place to strike my matches along there"

Russell—"We have a swell cow. Every time I let her out in a field of Buttercups she gives us buttermilk."

Si N.—"That's nothing. Every time our cow's tail freezes she gives ice cream sodas."

St. Peter looked with wonder at the two rusty coppers which the passing soul had dropped into his hand. "My good man?" he asked. "What is this for?"

"War Tax," murmured the soul, gloomily, as he passed through the heavenly gates.

Mr. Jeffers tells us that man was created first but woman came along a second later and asked him how long he had been waiting.

Mary—"For 'Holding'."

Lillian—"Oh, Isn't that just like him?"

Mr. Jeffers (English 4. Speaking in opposition to the Divine Right of Kings)—"I'd like to rewrite England's National anthem. I'd put in a more emphatic word than God Save the King."

Jeffers—"Did you notice that girl's purple and veil and lace hose?"
Fleenor—"Oh. Did she have a purple veil on?"

"Number, please?"
"Never mind, Central. The house has burned down now."

Senior—"It's all over the school. It's all over the school."

A dear old lady was showing her new parrot to her gardener.

"You know, Joseph, that this parrot comes from the Congo and it is so intelligent it seems almost human. This bird whistles 'Home Sweet Home' so beautifully that the tears run down its beak."

"That's nothing," said Joseph. "I used to own one that whistled 'The Village Blacksmith' so beautifully that sparks used to fly from its tail."

Uncle Rastus—"Is you goin' to hang up your stockin' next Xmas, Mose?"

Mose—"I don' know. Ah done hung it up las' Xmas and all ah got was a notice fum de Bo'hd of Health."

Miss McBrien—"So you don't know which letter comes next to H?"
Rovell P.—"No'm."
Miss McB.—"What have I on each side of my nose?"
Rovell—"Looks like powder from here."

The Freshmen were required to write two-hundred words about a motor-car. Martin Leason submitted the following: "My uncle bought a motor-car. He was out riding in the country when it busted going up a hill. The other 180 words are what my uncle said when he was walking back to town, but I know you wouldn't want me to repeat them."

Keepy tells us that leading up to kissing a girl is a matter of tact; the first kiss is a matter of pact; the second is a matter of act; and the rest of the kisses are matter-of-fact.

A darkey was asked what name he had given his youngest son.

"Erasmus Pro Tem Johnson, suh."

"But why the Pro Tem?"

"Well suh, dat am to show de name am only temporanious, suh. We figgered as how Erasmus might want to choose his own name when he growed up, so we put in 'Pro Tem' as a warnin' to de public."

Six-year-old Freddy, bred in the city, was on his first visit to his uncle's farm. At breakfast he heard that his uncle's Jersey cow had been stolen during the night.

"That's a good joke on the man who stole her," was Freddy's comment.

"Why?" asked his uncle.

"Why, just before supper last night the hired man took all the milk out of her."

Ervin N.—"My girl reminds me of washday."

Another—"Why, how's that?"

Ervin—"Nothing to her but clothes, pins, and a heavy line."

He—"Are you the young lady who took my order?"

Waitress—"Yes sir."

He—"You're still looking well. How's your grandchildren?"

Little Eleanor gazed long and thoughtfully at the young man who was calling on her sister Kate. "May I climb up on your knee, Mr. Browne?"

"Yes, of course dear," smiled the young man. "Want to pull my hair?"

"No, I want to see if I can find that word."

"Word? What word?" he asked.

"I heard Kate say this morning that if ever a man had the word 'idiot' written all over his face, it was you."

Little Willie, full of fun,
Hid one time in a three-inch gun.
The Fourth it was, and sad to say,
Willie came down in the form of spray.

"Is your girl right handed or left handed?"

"Neither. She's seconded handed."

Good Car For Sale—One Ford car with piston rings, two rear wheels, one front spring, has no fenders, seat or plank, burns lost of gas, hard to crank: carubureters busted half-way through, engine missing, hits on two; three years old—four in the spring: has shock absorbers and everything. Radiators busted, sure does leak, differential dry—you can hear it squeak, ten spokes missing, front all bent, top blown off—tain't worth a cent. Got lots of speed—runs like the deuce, burns either gas or tobacco juice. Tires all off—been run on the rim. She's a darned good car for the shape she's in.

When the lights are dim and low,
That your face is thickly powdered
How am I sweetheart, to know?
Every week I have to earry
Every coat that I possess
To the cleaners—Won't you darlin'
Love me more and powder less?

Mother—"Didn't I see you sitting on that young man's lap last night?"
Daughter—"Well you told me if he got sentimental I should sit on him."

There are two ways to win a woman. One is to spend money on her.—So is the other.

Daughter—"How do you like my new party gown, father?"
Father—"Why daughter. You surely aren't going out with half your back exposed?"
Daughter—"Oh how stupid of me. I have it on backwards."

Near the window in the little brown cottage sits a little grey haired woman, with bowed head. Her eyes are moist. Now the melodious sound of music comes floating from the other room. A tear runs down her wrinkled cheek and then another. She brings her handkerchief to her eyes and takes it away wet. How much longer must she wait for him to come? Turning slowly toward the open doorway with a clear sweet voice she calls out—"Jimmy, shut off that phonograph this instant and come help me peel these onions."

Little Willie, pointing to a picture of a Zebra,—"What's that?"
Little Johnnie—"It looks like a horse in a bathing suit."

"What, 3000 miles in her this summer, old man? Some tour."

"No tour at all just back and forth to the grocery store for things my wife forgot."

She was a S. S. teacher, and one Sunday afternoon she saw a number of boys on their way to bathe. "Do you know where little boys go to who bathe on Sunday?" she said.

"Yes" said one little Arab. "It's farther up the canal side, but you can't go—girls ain't allowed."

Suspicious Wife—"Where have you been all evening?"
Culprit—"I've been talking business over with Tom Baker."
"Yes, and I suppose that is baking power that is all over your shoulder?"

Florence M.—"I'm so mad at Ernest."
Colista—"What's wrong?"
Florence—"He knows so many naughty songs."
Colista—"Does he sing them to you?"
Florence—"No, the mean thing; he just whistles the tunes."

Leroy S.—"That movie we saw of Oliver Twist was good, wasn't it?"
